CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Governor William McKinley of Ohio made two Washington's birthday addresses under the auspices of the Union League club. He spoke in the afternoon at the Auditorium and at night at a banquet at the clubhouse. The Union League club has always been among the foremost in the celebration of Washington's birthday.

ton's birthday, and each year it secures some prominent man to deliver a suitable oration. This year the choice fell on Gov. McKinley. Many business houses were closed and exercises in honor of the day were held in all the school houses of the city.

QUIET CELEBRATION AT NEW YORK

Many Business-Houses Closed—Society
Banquets.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Washington's birthday was celebrated in many formal but quiet ways here. All the banks, exchanges, public buildings and business-houses were closed. In the evening the Sons of the Revolution celebrated the occasion by a banquet at Delmonico's. The menu, printed in colors and tied with red, white and blue ribbons, represented Brown's statue of Washington in Union Square. The New York state society, the Cincinnati Southern society and many other similar organizations banqueted at night. Secretary Carlisle, Speaker Crisp, Congressman John Allen of Mississippi and Congressman Raynor of Maryland made speeches at the Southern society celebration.

BRONZE TABLET UNVEILED.

Character of the Memorial Celebration in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 23.—The leading feature of the day's celebration in this city was the unveiling of the beautiful bronze tablet marking the site of old Congress hall, Baltimore and Sharp streets. The tablet was erected by the citizens of this city through the efforts of the Maryland Society Sons of the American Revolution, to commemorate the spot where the Continental congress met in Baltimore Dec. 20, 1776. The unveiling was preceded by a parade in which a large number of military and civic organizations participated.

GOVERNOR'S PUBLIC RECEPTION.

Usual Washington's Birthday Function
at the Massachusetts State House.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 23.—Washington's birthday proved all that could be desired in point of favorable weather and the holiday was celebrated much as in past years. The chief feature of the day was the public reception by Gov. Greenhalge at the state house, which was more largely attended than any similar reception since Gov. Robinson in 1884 inaugurated the custom. There was no further demonstration by the unemployed. The police were ready for any outbreak, but their services were not required except in keeping the concourse moving.

Observances in Illinois.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Feb. 23.—Washington's birthday was generally observed here. The state institutions for the deaf and dumb, with 552 scholars, and the blind, with about half this number, observed the occasion with carefully prepared programs which were well executed. The public schools also took pains to note the day.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 23.—Washington's birthday was observed here by the flying of national flags and the closing of the state and county offices and banks. In the evening a number of prominent society people held a Martha Washington party in costume at the Leland hotel.

Quiet Celebration in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 23.—The celebration of Washington's birthday in St. Louis was quiet. There were no parades or demonstrations of that character and the closing of banks, the Merchants' exchange and public buildings did not make much difference in the appearance of the downtown streets, as business houses generally were open.

THE POLLARD CASE.

A Former Sweetheart Makes Allegations
About the Plaintiff.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 23.—Three witnesses were examined here yesterday in the Pollard-Breckinridge suit. Mrs. Ketchum said both Miss Pollard and Col. Breckinridge once boarded at her house. She was not aware they were even acquainted and never saw them talking together. Rankin Russell, another witness, proved to have been another of Madeline's many sweethearts. She came to him in Cincinnati when he was a clerk and asked him to accompany her to Wesleyan college and introduce her to Dr. Brown, which he says he did. He called upon her afterward. His visits were frequent and finally he became engaged to her. He said the reason he did not marry Miss Pollard was because he thought she allowed him too many liberties.

DEADLOCK CONTINUES.

An Interesting Session of The House Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The house, which does not usually meet on Washington's birthday during the long session of congress, assembled yesterday, owing to the tangle which has grown out of the fight over the Bland bill.

The prospects of securing a quorum were not as good as they were Tuesday. Mr. Bland and his supporters were for the first time apparently disheartened, although Mr. Bland refused to accept a compromise proposed which contemplated the dropping of the second section of the bill providing for the coinage of the remainder of the bullion and the retirement of the Sherman treasury notes of the act of 1890.

After the reading of the journal, Mr. Pence of Colorado, rising to a question of personal privilege, corrected newspaper statements to the effect that members of the populist minority attended the democratic caucus on the 10th inst. He explained that the populists were in entire sympathy with the resolution adopted by the caucus to the effect that it was the duty of the democrats of the house to attend the sessions of the house and transact business. But he wanted it understood that the populists were not attending democratic caucuses. They would not if they could, and probably could not if they would.

A sensational scene followed. Mr. Cummings of New York arose and in a most vigorous manner denounced an attempt made to arrest him.

"This morning," said Mr. Cummings, "at 11 o'clock, while on the floor of this house, I was approached by an assistant sergeant-at-arms and informed that I was under arrest. I refused to acknowledge the service, and told him and his bosses to try to arrest me at their peril. I denounce this attempted arrest on Washington's birthday as unbridled tyranny. In the name of the American people I protest against holding a farcical session on this national holiday, and in honor of the memory of George Washington, I now move that this house adjourn."

A round of applause greeted this statement, but Mr. Dockery, who was in the chair, explained that Mr. Cummings had been recognized only to make a personal explanation, and Mr. Cummings then withdrew his motion.

There was a good deal of excitement on the floor and Mr. Reed tried to renew the motion, but the chair declared it was not in order, as he had previously recognized Mr. Bland. The latter wanted the privilege of making an explanation, but the loud demands for the regular order cut him off and he was obliged to submit his motion, which was to close general debate on the seigniorage bill next Saturday at 3 o'clock without explanation. On his motion he demanded the previous question.

Pending that motion Mr. Cummings again moved an adjournment in honor of the memory of Washington. On a rising vote the motion was lost; 103 to 124. Mr. Cummings demanded the yeas and nays. The republicans and democratic opponents of the bill voted for adjournment, but it was lost; 117 to 140.

Upon the announcement Mr. Reed suggested that the sergeant-at-arms bring to the bar such members as were under arrest. "We ought to have the regular daily jail delivery," he added, amid laughter. A scene of the most extraordinary confusion followed, no attempt at order being made by the members.

The chairman directed the sergeant-at-arms to bring out the mace and made the members take their seats. The official paraded around and then Mr. Bland moved to adjourn. The motion to adjourn was finally put and carried.

Natives.

SHULLSBURG, Feb. 23.—A gang of burglars raided Thomas Copeland's saloon and left it a wreck after carrying away fifteen gallons of whisky, a keg of beer and about 700 cigars. The floor around this bar was littered with broken glasses and beer mugs, bottles and lamps while on the south wall eighteen bullet holes were counted. James Harris heard the racket, but did not mind it. Some of the neighbors heard the shooting but supposed the usual entertainment was in progress and were not disturbed. The gang poured three or four gallons of kerosene oil on the floor evidently for the purpose of burning the building.

AGREE ON THE BILL.

Iowa Republican Senators Stand by Local Option.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 23.—After several weeks' delay action looking toward the solution of the vexed question of what to do with the prohibitory law has been taken by the committee of the senate on suppression of intemperance. The bill prepared by the subcommittee, consisting of Senators Carpenter, Waterman, Ellis and Harmon, and which was referred to the conference of the republican members Wednesday evening, was adopted by the full committee at their meeting yesterday afternoon, and will be reported to the senate with the recommendation that it pass. The democratic members of the committee will make a minority report offering their bill as a substitute. A motion to report the Carpenter bill favorably was carried without a dissenting vote among the republicans, though it is understood that some amendments may be offered on the floor. The original bill was amended by striking out the provision in regard to sale in original packages, and also the feature of state inspector of liquors.

IDEAL COUNTRY PAPER.

Several Illinois Editors Tell How One Should Be Made.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—At yesterday's session of the Illinois Press association at the Lexington hotel the ideal country newspaper was the subject of discussion. Charles E. Chain of the McDonough Democrat laid great stress upon neatness. Vic Hoven of the Greenfield Argus spoke in a humorous vein, and said he had never discovered an ideal country paper, though he had long been seeking one.

Horace Crithfield of the Atlanta Argus advised mechanical excellence. H. L. Taylor of the Wrenona Index pleaded for vigorous editorials and clean news. Mrs. J. J. Penny of the Murphysboro Independent eulogized truth as a prime necessity.

C. E. Snively of Canton read a biographical sketch speaking in appropriate terms of the work and character of the late Mrs. Myra Bradwell.

CALIFORNIA SAND STORM.

Drift on a Railway Track Causes a Wreck.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 23.—A big sand storm has been raging in the valleys eastward and the effect is plainly seen from the city in the hazy horizon. The worst effect was the wrecking of a train on the Southern California railway near San Bernardino. The engine was derailed and turned over on its side, as was the baggage car. The rest of the cars kept the track. No one was hurt except the engineer, H. Barnes of San Bernardino, who was badly cut about the head.

In getting to Blanchardville he had torn much of his clothing off, and had waded the Pecatonica stream half a dozen times. The bottoms of his feet were blacked with bruises and frost.

AFTER CORNELL STUDENTS.

Ithaca Police Think They Have Clues to the Perpetrators of the Outrage.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 23.—The city authorities think they have several clues which will lead to the arrest of the sophomores who caused the death of Mary Jackson, the colored cook, by liberating chlorine gas in the kitchen adjoining the dining-room where the freshmen were holding the class supper Tuesday night. They think they know who purchased the tools to make the holes in the floor of the kitchen and where some of the chemicals used came from. The suspected students are being watched and will be arrested if they try to leave town.

Students Patterson, McNeil and McCulloch, who are suffering from the fumes of the gas, are slowly improving.

St. Louis Mill—Assault Three Men.

Finding a watchman and a boy, they bound and gagged both, after beating them into insensibility with clubs. Then they set to work on the safe in the office and made two unsuccessful attempts to blow it open with powder. The robbers, unable to force the outer door with chisels, discharged a blast inside the safe, but it, too, failed. Perceiving that they could not reach the interior of the safe they left the mill, after robbing the watchman, Charles Menard, and Fred Block and Fred Scheib, who had come in for some flour while they were there and fallen into their hands. All three men are badly hurt.

CLARK BLAMES DOE FOR THE CONTRACT.

DEFENDANTS MADE UNEASY BY THE COLONEL'S STORY

Treasurer Hunner's Name Dragged Into the Case—Governor Peck's Ex-Secretary Talks More Freely—End of the Milwaukee Hearing—Trial Begins Monday.

Colonel Clark talked more on the second day of his roster examination. Still there was manifest a desire to bury numerous points.

The first hour of the examination was devoted to bringing out Clark's relation to the roster contract in its early stages. Clark said that he first heard of the proposed job from General Doe.

"I was in General Doe's department," said Clark, "and he said that the governor would be able to say in his message that the copy for the roster was ready for the printers and that he would have the duty of letting the contract for the printing. He told me about chapter 540. I asked if the job did not belong to the state printer. He said he did not. Then I said that if it was going to be let to somebody else, the Times Company would like to make a bid on the work. General Doe said he would find out what the last roster had cost and wanted me to say what I could print it for. That was the substance of the conversation."

Colonel Clark's memory went back on him again after he had made that comparatively direct statement, and he could not recall his conversation with anybody else on the subject. From time to time he had talked with General Doe, but he could not recall the substance of the conversation.

State to Pay $70,000 Profit.

"The estimated profit on the roster was $70,000, was it not," asked Mr. Olin.

"I suppose so."

"Yet you were protecting the interest of the state."

"I don't remember that I said so."

"You were the private secretary of the chief executive of the state?"

"Yes."

"Did you say to the governor: 'I think the profit in this is a little large; hadn't we better cut it some?'"

"I did not make any suggestions to the governor."

"But as a state officer were you satisfied with the price named?"

"Whose duty was it?"

"The Governor's."

"But you were in the Governor's employ. Did you call his attention to the matter?"

"I did not talk with the governor. I did not think it was proper. The contract came from General Doe's department and if there was anything wrong with it it was the Governor's duty to deal with General Doe directly." The witness objected to calling his talks with General Doe "negotiations."

Where Clark Got the $5,000.

It was during the afternoon that Mr. Jeffris, who had taken Mr. Olin's place, asked Clark where he had got the $5,000 which he paid back to the Dows and to Tracy & Gibbs after Governor Peck canceled the contract. Clark refused to answer and the attorneys had a lively squabble for an hour. The court finally decided that Clark should answer, and then Clark asked for some time to consult his attorney. When he returned and Jeffris again asked the question Clark said he had borrowed $2,000 of the money from State Treasurer Hunner. His memory had another lapse when he was asked where he got the balance. He believed he had some of his own, but could not remember definitely. The only thing he could remember was that he had given his note for one year to Hunner, and that he paid over his salary for six months, in all, $960, to apply for the note. The attorneys evidently believe that Clark got the remaining $3,000 from the democratic leaders in Milwaukee, but the most searching questions failed to revive Clark's memory.

Other Defendants Alarmed.

One of the significant features of Clark's examination was the presence of the attorneys for all the other defendants. It was evident that all the other defendants were somewhat apprehensive about Clark's disclosures and felt it necessary to be represented. Clark's statements, like those of Governor Peck's in his examination, seem to implicate General Doe in the job rather more seriously than the other state officers, but the fact appears to be incidental rather than the result of intention to lay the blame on Doe.

The latter was the man whose official position made him, next to the governor, the most active agent in the letting of the roster contract. But he is not necessarily more deeply implicated than any of the other defendants.

For the first time State Treasurer Hunner's name figures in the case. Clark's deposition was the last one to be taken, and the case will go to trial in Madison on Monday.

TWENTY thousand bushels of gas house coke at bottom prices. Janesville Coal Co., J. H. GATLEY Mgr.

THE greatest spring medicine, recommended by druggists and physicians, Vankirk's New York Cider.

AN evening with Riley at the Congregational Church Sunday School room Friday evening. Admission 10 cents.

A WEST side druggist recently received an order for some "Hikery Pikery," which he deciphered as meaning Hiera Pira.

"WELL, I've had a run for my money," said the sporting gen, when, after a long chase he had caught the thief who had stolen his roll.

AT a five o'clock tea yesterday afternoon, the topic discussed was: "Why Women Marry." Why not discuss "Why Dogs Have Fleas?"

A FOURTH ward man who recently lost one glove from a moving train threw the other one after it immediately, saying that the finder of ore might as well have the pair.

"How is business?" asked a man today of a merchant who doesn't advertise in The Gazette. "Hush," was the reply, "speak reverently of the dead."

GREEN & INMAN are putting grill work on all the arched doorways at the Grand hotel, which add much to the appearance of that popular building.

LOOK over our bargain counter. A few of those decorated catmeals left at three cents each; soup tureen, 50 cents; imported china decorated cake plates, 10 inches in diameter, usually sold at 40 cents, our price 10 cents. Wheelock's Grocery Store.

WEISSEN will have a grand formal opening of his new clothing store in the Phoenix block, No. 21, West Milwaukee street, opposite the postoffice, to-morrow, February 24, and the band will play in the store in the evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. Everybody is invited to visit the store and see one of the finest arranged clothing and merchant tailoring establishments in the state, and by far the finest clothing store in the city of Janesville.

Complication of Diseases.

"I had not been well for years. I could not walk any distance, had female weakness, rheumatism and heart trouble and was very bad off. Could not sit up but a little while. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and improved with the first bottle. I have now taken seven bottles and can walk a mile and feel better every day."

BLAZE OF BEAUTY SEEN LAST NIGHT.

AURORA OF UNUSUAL BEAUTY FLAMED AND DIED.

Horizon Brilliantly Lighted With Bars Of Living Gold and Tongues of Electric Fire that Developed All the Colors of the Rainbow and Made Night Like Day.

The aurora borealis was out in all its glory last night and this morning. Just before the moon arose, appeared in the east first a brilliant halo, and while deep crimson predominated, all the colors of the rainbow were distinctly visible. This beautiful halo was first seen way down on the horizon, just north of east. Then the tongues of the electric flame commenced shooting skyward, reaching the zenith. They moved rapidly northward and westward, until the whole heavens from east northward to west were brilliantly illuminated, the electric clouds becoming dimmed and faded as they were gently and slowly moved away from the east, yet retaining all the rainbow colors. Night was almost as light as day. At half-past nine, when the moon was well out, the manifestations appeared farther to the north, and while less brilliant in colors, were heavier in volume. It was a grand sight, one of the finest ever seen, especially in mid-winter.

SHOOTING MATCH SUCCESSFUL.

Some Money Went Out of Town But a Good Deal Stayed Home.

Whitton got the lead; in the third McKinney and Vance divided; fourth, H. H. McKinney was alone; fifth, Wise and Smith divided; sixth, Sutherland; seventh, Wise, McKee, McLean, Vance and Sutherland divided; eighth, McKinney, McLean and Soverhill divided; ninth, Wise and McLean; tenth, McKee, Carter and Vance, eleventh, Vance; twelfth, Vance and McKinney.

REBEKAH'S MADE THE NIGHT GLAD.

Anniversary of The Organization of the Order Marked in a Pleasant Manner.

The anniversary of the organization of the Daughters of Rebekah was marked by a pleasant party that was given by American Lodge No. 26 at the G. A. R. hall night. About seventy-five couples attended and a jolly good time was the result. One of the most entertaining features of the gathering were the vocal and banjo solos of C. N. Riker, who is an expert banjoist.

A DAILY BIT OF FUN.

Not a Flatterer.

She—All of which only convinces me that you married me for my money.

He—Well, it may not seem probable, but I honestly loved you.—Life.

She Wished to Be Correct.

There is a family living out in the suburbs that does not put much faith in the old saying that "cleanliness comes next to godliness." A gentleman visitor, while waiting in the parlor, overheard the following conversation:

"Sally, dear, you are going to the party to-night. You must not forget to wash your neck!"

"Yes, mother, dear, I'll try and remember it. Shall I wash for a high or a low-necked dress?"—Texas Sittings.

REST OF THE MONTH BELOW ZERO.

Prophet Johnson Says the Cold Wave Has Come to Stay.

Weather Prophet James Johnson, of Kankakee county, Ill., says the cold part of February promised by him in his general forecast for the month has set in and will continue to the end of the month, thus also carrying out the forecast made by the ground hog when he saw his shadow on his recent appearance. Following is Mr. Johnson's forecast for the last week of February.

February 23—It is expected to open with a cold dip from the 23d. The temperature will rise rapidly and become quite warm, with medium heavy rains in central latitudes and light snows in the northern part of states and lake region. High winds general; cold wave of moderate strength coming from the northwest; slight cyclonic conditions exist in the northern parts of Gulf states.

February 24—Fifteen degrees colder; fair to cloudy; wind fresh, becoming light; moderate cold wave Dakota, Minnesota, etc.

February 25—Opens stationary, becoming slightly warmer, generally fair; wind brisk Iowa to lakes.

February 26—Seven degrees warmer; generally fair in Ohio Valley; light snow over lakes; wind brisk in upper third of Mississippi Valley and on western lakes.

February 27—Eight degrees colder; generally fair; wind light.

February 28—Eight degrees warmer; light rain in central Illinois latitudes, becoming heavy in northern parts of Gulf states and south of Ohio Valley latitude; wind fresh to brisk over lake region; fair to cloudy in upper Mississippi Valley and lakes.

GLORY OF THE NATION.

The Latest Warship Added to Our World-Beating Navy.

In size, the cruiser Montgomery differs materially from the battleship; but in the characteristics of modernity and the features of progress and great power within its scope the smaller craft is of equal interest. Congress makes appropriation for the construction of vessels and describes loosely their type, speed, approximate tonnage displacement, and limit of cost, but upon the genius of the navy department falls the task of making the most of that allowance, and combining as many effective qualities within those bounds as the skill of the naval architect and the marine engineer can devise; and in the Montgomery the result is decidedly praiseworthy.

This vessel, like her sister ships, the Detroit and Marblehead, is an example of the simple coal-protected cruiser type; i. e., her coal supply is so disposed around her motive power and magazines as to afford considerable protection to those parts from gunfire. Over the boilers and engines, and, in fact, throughout the entire length of the vessel, there is a light water-tight deck. The deck is intended to preserve the vessel's buoyancy rather than to afford any defensive bulwark to the region below. Should the sides adjacent to the water-line be injured, the coal stored there in the bunkers would limit the admission of water, while the water-tight deck would preclude flooding of the compartments beneath.

The Montgomery is built of steel, has triple-expansion engines, each in a separate compartment, actuating twin screws, and is schooner rigged, with sufficient sail-power to add to her steadiness in a seaway. She is required to maintain a contract speed of seventeen knots an hour for four consecutive hours on trial; but should she equal the performance of the Detroit she will run over eighteen knots, and remunerate her builders handsomely.

Her principal dimensions are, length on load water-line, 257 feet; breadth, extreme, 37 feet; mean draught, 14 feet 6 inches; indicated horse-power (contract), 5,403; displacement, 2,000 tons.

Her offensive powers will be concentrated in a main battery consisting of eight 5-inch rapid-fire guns and two 6-inch rapid-fire guns; a secondary battery of six 6-pounders, two 1-pounder rapid-fire guns, and two Gatling guns; while there is provision forward for three torpedo-launching apparatuses—one in the stem for the Howell automobile, and two, one on either side, on the main deck, for the Whitehead torpedo. All of the guns are of the rapid-fire type, using "fixed ammunition," by which means great celerity of discharge is obtained. What this vessel loses in defensive properties she equals by the great effectiveness of her batteries; and many a larger, heavier protected craft would stand but a poor chance against this active ship. Her individual hits may be less dangerous considered singly, but their comparative lightness is amply augmented by their frequency.

Upon her full bunker capacity of 435 tons of coal she will be able to steam 8,952 knots at a ten-knot speed; while at eighteen knots an hour she will be able to cover 1,624 knots in 3.76 days.

Elevation of the Stage.

"I started out to elevate the stage, did he?"

"He said that was his object."

"Well, has he met with success?"

"Can't say as to that. His company has gone up, but I've not heard whether or not they took the stage up with them."—Kansas City Journal.

Clever Repartee.

Robert Smith (brother of Sydney, and familiarly called Bobus) was a lawyer and an ex-advocate general and happened on one occasion to be engaged in an argument with a physician touching the merits of their respective professions.

"You must admit," urged Dr. —, "your profession does not make angels of men."

"No," was the retort; "there you have the best of it: yours certainly gives them the first chance."—Sala's Journal.

Mamma's Changing Love.

Small Son—I don't believe mamma loves you any more.

Papa—Oh, I guess she does.

"If she loved you she wouldn't want to make you unhappy, would she?"

"Of course not."

"Well, she said she was going to tell you to whip me, and you know it always makes you unhappy to have to whip me."—Good News.

Two Sets of Terms.

Sub-Editor—What shall I say about Mr. Goodsoul, who is likely to be nominated by the opposition?

Great Editor—Oh, call him a reptile and a thief.

"But he is a man whose character is without a stain."

"That so? Well, call him weak and imbecile."—Puck.

SOMEWHAT HUMOROUS.

The Unexpected.
He—Why, Miss Elder, this is a surprise! I thought you were abroad this winter.
She—Oh, no. You haven't heard, then? I am to be married next month.
He—Well, well! this is startling news; but then the unexpected always happens.—Judge.

Progressing Slowly.
George—How does your suit with Miss Beattie progress?
Jack—I am pursuing a waiting policy.
“Eh?”
“Yes. I'm waiting for her to—er—change her mind.”—N. Y. Weekly.

“Wrong.”
“Well, that's where the bay horses come from, anyway.”—Good News.

Before the Private Theatricals.

Blanche—Why, pet?
Bessie—Will acts the lover so fervently, and you know father and mother will be in the front row—and they don't like him.—Brooklyn Life.

A Thorough Calamityite.
“Jenkinson is a terrible pessimist, isn't he?”
“He used to be, but the hard times have pleased him so much that he takes rather a hopeful view of things lately.”—Detroit Tribune.

He Had a Just Claim.
Railroad Man (angrily)—I have just found out that that cow we had to pay for had not given any milk for five years.
Farmer Smartt—Yaas; that's so.
“It is, is it? Now, sir, what right had you to put such a high value on her? Tell me that.”
“Well, you see, I valued that cow as a curiosity.”—Life.

An Evasive Answer.
Judge (to witness)—What is your age, senora?
Witness—I am over twenty.
“You must tell me the exact truth.”
“Between twenty and thirty.”
“But when will you be thirty?”
“To-morrow, my lord.”—La Union de Valparaiso.

Between the Acts.
Mr. Bixby—I just went out, my dear, to see if it was raining. I am so afraid of your taking cold, that I am filled with anxiety.
Mrs. Bixby—Thanks, John. But it seems to me that your anxiety smells very strongly of cloves.—Kings' Jester.

Witness Was on Oath.
Lawyer—One more question: Is the defendant addicted to the use of tobacco?

Witness—I—I don't know, sir. He smokes cigarettes.—Chicago Tribune.

WITS AT WORK.

“Do you think practice always makes perfect?” “No; it hasn't made anything but a row ever since that idiot upstairs commenced with his flute.”

Little Johnny—Papa, did you ever make a snow man in the winter?
Wise Father—No, my son, but I have helped to make a great big ice man in the summer.

Artist—I painted this picture, sir, to keep the wolf from the door. Dealer, after inspecting it—Well, hang it on the knob where the wolf can see it, and he'll skip quick enough.

Shoe Merchant, measuring her foot—Size two will just about fit you, I think, little girl. Little Girl, doing her own shopping—O, dear, no! That's too large. I can wear half-past one.

“What were you doing so long in the store?” “There was an Italian at the counter, and I became so much interested in his appearance that I stood there and watched until I saw the dago buy.”

“I think I did a good job when I put up those strawberries,” said Mrs. Snaggs, complacently, as her husband helped himself to the preserves a third time. “Yes,” replied he, “they are very good for a put-up job.”

Maude—We had private theatricals last evening. They went off first rate, only the folks would laugh in the wrong place. Uncle Henry—There is no such thing, Maude, as laughing in the wrong place in private theatricals.

Carruthers—I hear you are engaged to one of the Rathburne twins. How do you distinguish her from her sister? Waite—O, prior to the wedding I haven't regarded it as material, and when the time comes I presume she will know the difference.

Mr. Wickwire—You ought to be ashamed of the way you encourage that Mrs. Garsup to keep calling here. Do you really enjoy hearing your neighbors talked about? Mrs. Wickwire—No, I can't say that I do. But as long as I keep her here I know she is not talking about me.

The German professor of music to be met with in English drawing-rooms is an entertaining old gentleman. To him recently a lady said, when one of his compositions had just been rendered by one of the guests: “How did you like the rendering of your song, professor?” “Vas dot my song?” replied the professor. “I did not know him.”

Dullman's German Medicine Co.—Gentlemen! I take great pleasure in testifying in behalf of Dullman's German Blood, Liver, Stomach and Kidney Cure. A Whimsical Chap.

Once tried to quote Bulwer (was it Bulwer?) and said, "Great aches from little toe corns grow," and altho' he didn't exactly quote he got there, got there as it were, with both feet, at least with a part of both.

"To be or not to be," said Shakespeare, (or Bacon?) and he toe, may not be far off. Foot it over hill and dale, 'til you are weary and foot-sore, and you cannot find such bargains as we offer in building sites, Homesites, for on these and the prices of the same and terms, too, we always did "see the mark." For some reason we are this spring getting onto the goods, the prices and the terms with both feet. And so, with Hamlet we soliloquize: "The wonder grows," why people are not "up in arms" when the prices we quote are looked into. You can get a home, if you wish, so long as we are in the business; hard times don't count. If you are not earning so much money as you did last year, we will meet you; it don't matter.

Homesites and Homes are our fad; to help people get 'em is what we are on earth for, this time.

The main secret, we suppose, why we always get the major part of the real estate trade going, is that we own a large part of the property that we offer. Another part of the secret is, we deal every time so that our customer sends to us his or her friend when they want to deal.

Our beginnings here were not large, but so true it is that "Great oaks from little acorns grow," that the "birds of the air" have their homes,—build their nests,—in the result of our grain of mustard seed. Come over and roost with us. Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

INGERSOLL KNEW THE SYMPTOMS.

Colonel Ingersoll finds a great deal of sunshine in nearly every phase of life, but nothing in the democratic party that he can approve of. While making a political speech some years ago some one in the crowd yelled out, "What is the matter with the democratic party?" Ingersoll dropped his line of argument, turned towards his interrogator and replied as follows:

What is the matter with the democratic party? I will tell you. My friend, the democratic party was born under the planets that were in opposition. He lives in the objective case, like a mule he has no pride of ancestry, or hope of posterity, it shines by borrowed light; it has never been united in wedlock to an honest principle, but lived for years in open adultery with a harlot called slavery, lived with her until she died of corruption and was buried amid the sighs and groans of her paramour. The atmosphere that surrounds the democratic party is full of noxious vapors that breed moral pestilence and death. The sun never shines through it; vice seeks its shadow and corruption grows lustily under its influence. Springs of purity are never found in democracy; its waters are torpid, lifeless, covered with scum, with which stagnant pools and moveless waters always offend the eyes of men. The soil which democracy has cultivated has failed to yield harvest of value to the nation, but has given crops of worthless weeds and briars. Democracy has no love of country; believes in states instead of nations; drives loyalty from its doors and welcomes treason; holds the deeds of our soldiers and sailors as naught; strives to blacken the names of our heroes; weeps over the lost cause; hates the blue and loves the gray; stabs loyalty in the back; binds up the wounds of treason, and speaks words of hope and comfort to its devotees; applauds when helpless blacks are stricken down in the south; and caresses the hand red with their innocent blood; denies the rights of American citizens to make homes for themselves in the south; justifies the man who shoots and drives him out. Democracy is a curse to the land; the source of its bitter woes; the haven where vice finds friends and crize its apologist and defender. Democracy is original sin let loose to rend and destroy; it is the spirit of evil filling the swine of the land; the child of the devil, its home should be in that outer darkness where there is wailing and gnashing of teeth. That faintly pictures my friend what is the matter with the democratic party.

Every democratic member of the house who would consent to express an opinion has said in substance: "It is certainly not such a bill as I wanted." It is certainly not such a bill as any republican wanted, therefore it must be that Mr. Cleveland is the only one who really wants such a bill.

It seems from investigations made by the Mexican government that some rich Americans have been heavily investing in paper titles to Mexican land. A gang of American sharpers are systematically working the scheme. They don't own a foot of land, but they have sold millions of acres.

Perhaps if Mr. Cleveland and Senator Hill could be induced to attend the Moody and Sankey revival now going on in Washington, the country might be spared a repetition of the Hornblower and Peckham affairs, now that Senator White is fixed.

"Spain expects favors from Cleveland" is the suggestive headline of a cablegram in an exchange. Well being in Europe it will get them, if Mr. Cleveland has his way. He has shown a special fondness for favoring Europeans.

Representative Sibley thinks Secretary Morton should be made to eat Russian thistle with his spring lamb as a punishment for having ignorantly said that sheep would eat Russian thistle.

According to the Washington papers Senator Peffer is making himself conspicuous at religious and temperance meetings. He is beginning his campaign for reelection early.

Who says that the tongue of Mrs. Lease has become a victim of the compromise habit? We should like to have the testimony of Mr. D.

It is significant that the strongest supporters of the Cleveland tariff bill are constantly trying to present valid excuses for so doing.

In the race for securing free newspaper advertising, Mrs. Lease is in a fair way to distance the field.

THE WASTE HEAVENLY TWINS.

The Charming Personality of Mrs. Sarah Grand.

Mrs. Grand, the writer of "Heavenly Twins," is of English parentage, with old Quaker stock on both sides. She was born in Ireland, where her father held a coast-guard's appointment. She had two brothers and two sisters, and was next to the youngest in the family. When she was only 7 years old her father died and her mother returned to Yorkshire to live among her own people. Her education was rather desultory, and, so far as schools were concerned, came to a sudden end when she was only 16.

At that time she married and found herself stepmother to two boys of 10 and 8. After her marriage she traveled in Ceylon, China and Japan. Her life there probably had a strong influence in forming her character and opinions. After five or six years abroad Mrs. Grand returned to England, and after several years wrote "Ideals," her first printed novel. Some people prefer this book, which was printed at the author's expense, to the "Heavenly Twins." Two years were spent in writing the latter one, and three years were necessary to find a publisher sufficiently courageous to take the risk and responsibility of its production. Mrs. Grand's personality is said to be charming. She is peculiarly refined in manner, and has a very sweet and low voice. She now lives near London, and her son and two stepsons make their home with her.

A PENNY IN THE SLOT.

And Out Comes a Measured Supply of Illuminating Gas.

After the innumerable imbecile and robber-like applications of the "penny-in-the-slot" principle, it is pleasant to record a sensible application of the same. Few of these can lay claim to the serviceability of the "penny-in-the-slot" gas machine which is now in use in parts of England, and principally by the corporation of the city of Manchester. By this application the consumer can obtain about 30 feet for one penny.

The penny is placed in the slot in the usual manner, and the rate for gas in Manchester is 3 pence per 100 feet. One burner is estimated to consume about 6 feet of gas per hour, and this system of supply has proved of great benefit to small cottage dwellers, a class to whom the occasional spending of a penny is not so sharply felt as would be the outlay under the ordinary monthly gas bill arrangement.

BRIEF SESSION OF THE SENATE.

Proposal to Suppress Importation of Lottery Appliances.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—In the senate yesterday Senator Hoar had read a newspaper article alleging the circulation of lottery tickets in Florida. Senator Pardo said the people of Florida were taking steps to put down the foreign lottery business in Florida, and denied the existence of drawings in the state. Senator Hoar proposed to prevent the importation of lottery appliances.

Senator Martin of Kansas offered a resolution instructing the finance committee to prepare a bill for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. He also presented a resolution directing the judiciary committee to prepare a joint resolution providing for the election of senators by a direct vote of the people.

At 1:35 the senate adjourned until Monday next.

To Compel Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Representative Chickering of New York has introduced a bill for an amendment to the act of July 26, 1892, to enforce reciprocal commercial relations between the United States and Canada. The amendment provides that if the President is satisfied that unjust discrimination is being made against the United States by the Canadian canals, he shall have power to retaliate.

Tired, Weak, Nervous

"I was in a discouraging condition, my health and strength almost gone. I had that tired feeling frequently, and had rheumatism so severely that I had to walk with a cane. I felt tired of life and was a burden to others. Nervous spells and dizziness added to my sufferings and greatly reduced my strength. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon was so much better that I kept on until I felt like a different person. I owe my present good health to Hood's Sarsaparilla and cordially recommend it as a good all-round medicine." MRS. MARY C. CRYDERMAN, La Fontaine, Kansas.

ROCK COUNTY MEN WELL SPOKEN OF.

MANY FIGURE IN THE TALK OF STATE CANDIDATES.

People Talk of A. P. Lovejoy For Governor, R. J. Burdge of Beloit, Lieutenant Governor, C. L. Valentine Secretary of State, Michael Murphy for State Treasurer.

Rock county the banner republican county in the state possesses a number of brilliant sons who would honor places on the republican state ticket in the coming campaign. Ex-Senator A. P. Lovejoy is the choice of Rock county republicans for the head of the ticket. Then there is Senator R. J. Burdge of Beloit, whom many would like to see in the lieutenant governor's chair. Senator Burdge is not only ripe in scholarship, but in experience, and there is no man in Wisconsin more capable than he.

Coming back to the Bower City, the highways, and by-ways, lined with Grand Army men, as well as civilians, would cheer lustily to see the name of Charles L. Valentine on the state ticket as secretary of state, believing him well qualified for this important office. And wouldn't the young republicans, especially the Irish Americans, get right up and pull off their coats to see the name of Michael Murphy on the state ticket for state treasurer. Although he has declared he is not a candidate he would add many thousands of votes to the state ticket majorities should his name be so placed.

Want Cooper in Congress.

Congressman Cooper is still talked of for governor. The Racine Journal says: The suggestion from Janesville that Representative H. A. Cooper the republican nominee for governor receives the hearty endorsement of republicans in Racine. The only objection is that this country is anxious to return Mr. Cooper to congress. He is admitted to be the strongest man in the district for and office, and would be exceedingly popular as a gubernatorial candidate. Knowing ones here think the plan to run Mr. Cooper for governor is in the interest of Malcolm G. Jeffris, of Janesville as a congressional candidate as well as in the interests of Mr. Cooper for governor. Mr. Jeffris, however, would in no way be objectionable to Racine county as a congressional candidate.

TO NIGHT'S PLAY IS A STRONG ONE.

Alden Benedict's Performance Is One That is Worth Seeing.

Alden Benedict in "Fabio Romani" pleased a Janesville audience very much when he showed here before. To-night he appears in the same production. The New York Evening News says:

"The play is essentially sombre in tone, but is relieved by comedy. The situations are thrilling, and the motive strong and dramatic. The title role was played by Walter Lawrence, in an earnest and forcible manner. The false wife Nina, was well played by Miss Frances Field. The scenic effects, particularly an eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, were very pretentious."

Weisend's Grand Opening.

The sale will begin in the morning at 7 o'clock and will end in the evening at 11 o'clock. All those who have attended the bonafide cost sale during the month of January at the old stand know that Mr. Weisend is not to compare with the fake sale clothing merchants, but when he advertises a cost sale it means a cost sale and when he advertises a discount sale it is a discount sale. PLENTY OF FRUIT AT FAIR PRICES.

CONSIDERING THE SEASON YOU CAN DO PRETTY WELL.

Oranges Are Cheaper than Apples
While Cucumbers Cost More Than
Strawberries—Imported Grapes Are Not High and Fish Can Be Had Very Reasonable.

Janesville housekeepers find no difficulty in obtaining plenty of seasonable fruit, although prices rule rather high. Apples, although not plenty are selling at 60 cents a peck, a price that puts the fruit out of reach of many. Grocery men claim there is no profit even at that price. Oranges are cheaper than apples. They sell at from 20 to 35 cents per dozen according to size. And they were never better than they are this year. The Florida crop has been unusually large and of a very fine quality, and the same is true of the California crop. Fine lemons command 25 cents per dozen.

Imported grapes are comparatively cheap. Fine Malagas can be bought for 20 cents a pound. Last year they commanded twenty-five cents a pound, and they have been known to be higher even than that. You can add strawberries to the list if you can afford to pay 45 cents a box for them. What there are of them are said to be good, but there are not many of them—in a box.

Fish Are Cheap.

This is the season when the butcher goes into sackcloth and ashes along with his customers, but the fish man rejoices exceedingly. He shows his appreciation of the situation by providing his customers with a great list from which to choose, and he has not put prices out of reach. Trout, whitefish, carp and haddock are selling for ten cents a pound; pickerel and perch 10 cents. Atlantic mackerel sell for 25 cents each and bluefish are worth a shilling a pound.

Beef is selling in the retail market at 4 1/2 cents, according to cuts; pork at 6 1/2 cents; and veal at 8 1/2 cents.

Poultry is not very plentiful. There are a few turkeys and some chickens. The chickens are worth 10 cents a pound. Eggs are getting cheaper. A short time ago fresh eggs sold for 20 cents per dozen and cold storage eggs for 12 cents. Now they can be had for 12 and 15 cents.

Fresh vegetables are plentiful at the usual winter prices. Lettuce and radishes sell at 50 cents per dozen and celery at 35 1/2 cents. Cucumbers can be had but they are worth more than strawberries. They command $1.50 per dozen. The south ships them here and it does not require many carloads per day to supply the demand. Tropical fruits are coming in quite plentifully, and are selling at very reasonable prices, considering the season.

ANYTHING.

That is What Dr. McChesney Said to Our Reporter.

As we traveled our best this morning we noticed a large number of people going up the stairway that leads to Dr. McChesney's offices. We decided to join the crowd and follow. We went in and met the doctor and asked him what was the matter? Why were so many people there? He said, "I have no time to be bothered, these people came here to be treated by me, they are suffering with different diseases, the eye, ear, nose throat or lungs and cannot find relief at any other place. I am curing them. Don't bother me." The reporter said, "May I have the privilege of making a notice about it? and what shall I say?" The doctor's answer was—"Say anything you see what I am doing." So we made it in accordance. There is no doubt that Dr. McChesney is achieving a great reputation. One hundred and fifty people are daily sounding his praise. He is the greatest specialist of the eye, ear, nose, throat or lungs, who ever came to Janesville.

Three children survive—Mrs. W. H. Bonesteel of this City, and Mrs. C. H. Crawford and Miss Mary E. Stewart of Chicago. The funeral will be held from the home, 58 Cherry street, on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

ROSEY's great money raising sale is a success. The other clothing merchants are mad, we can't help it, why don't you buy your clothing right? Then you can compete with us. Rosenfeld.

MEN's heavy weight suits, such as double breasted Scotch, Melts, etc., will all go at cost to-morrow at Weisend's grand opening in the Phoebe block, opposite the post office.

The finest line of children's suits and knee pants ever brought to this city just received at Weisend's, and all will go at a discount to-morrow. Mothers don't forget it. Buy to-morrow.

The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Loan, Savings and Buildings' association will be held at Silas Hayner's office this evening at which session the money now on hand will be loaned.

THE "fake sale" still continues at Rosenfeld's on the bridge. Some of those old fossils who have lost all their teeth, and have goods in their place for the last forty years, have the nerve to style our sale a "fake sale." That is all right; we are satisfying the people, and will continue to do so. Name your price, "you superannuated sons of Noah"; your goods are as old as Noah. We who have new goods, purchased within the last twelve months, will proceed to name lower prices. Rosenfeld, the fitter, on the Bridge.

To Prevent House Deadlocks.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Some of the democratic members of the house who think measures must be taken to prevent repetitions of the deadlock in which the house finds itself on the seigniorage bill framed a petition for a caucus yesterday. Representative Paynter of Kentucky circulated the paper and obtained 100 names, some of the opponents of the Bland bill signing as well as its supporters. The proposal is as follows:

"But should a quorum fail to vote, and the point be made no quorum had voted, then any member can announce to the speaker that a member, giving his name, is present and failed to vote on such roll call. Thereupon the speaker shall direct the sergeant-at-arms to bring such member before the bar of the house; and when the sergeant-at-arms has brought such member before the bar of the house the speaker shall then direct the clerk to call the name of such member, who, again failing to vote, shall be noted on the journal by the clerk as present, and be counted by the speaker for the purpose of making a quorum."

KELLY WILL DRIVE MANY FAST FLYERS.

JANESVILLE MAN HAS A BRILLIANT STABLE IN HAND

Besides Directum and Other Personal Charges He Will Drive the Celebrated Dubois Stable of Denver Including W. W. P. the Phenomenal Pacer.

About the best racing stable on the American turf next season will be presided over by a Janesville man, John Kelly, it having just been made public that in addition to driving Directum 2:05 1/2, this year, Kelly will drive the stable of trotters and pacers belonging to the Dubois Bros., of Denver Col., the owners of Yolo Maid, 2:12; W. W. P., 2:10 1/2; Betsy Cotton, 2:16 1/2; Beulah, 2:14 1/2; Elsie S., 2:21 1/2; Superior, 2:17 1/2, &c. Kelly is to take charge of the Dubois stable at Denver this week. Directum will, about June 1, be shipped to Kelly, and the whole stable will come directly east, probably to Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will get the last finishing touches preparatory to starting in with the Grand Circuit at Detroit.

In addition Kelly has the management and handling of a number of horses on his own responsibility. Seven horses will beat flying Jib next season, Kelly says, and W. W. P. is counted as one of them. Horsemen say that the "initial pacer" is one of the coming stars.

Government Will Not Destroy Thistles.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Secretary of Agriculture Morton has written a letter to Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania, in which he says he does not think it the duty of the government to destroy Canadian thistles for the people any more than to raise wheat for them. He advises the farmers themselves to try to kill the thistles.

Application was made at the New York postoffice the other day for mourning stamps, and the applicant expressed great disappointment when he was told that the government did not keep any in stock.

The Yorkshire Post, having announced the death of John Sedgwick, had to correct the announcement, the gentleman being still alive. By way of putting the matter right, the correction concluded thus: "The paragraph reached us from a usually trustworthy correspondent, and we regret that he appears to have been misinformed."

Even sealskin is now counterfeited, not only with plush, which was a weak device, but with a true fur that closely resembles the real thing. Muffs of this material sold last season at $3 or more. This year they are as low as $1.50, and so close is their resemblance to the thing they simulate that women wear them side by side with true seal garments.

In the death of George Miller, Somerset county, Pa., lost one of her most remarkable characters. Miller was seized with smallpox when only three years old, and since then he has been totally blind. Some fifty years ago he learned to make hand hay rakes, and he made them so well and substantially that he soon built up a large trade and became widely known as "the blind rakermaker."

A good story is told of a well-known Presbyterian minister of Toronto, who not long ago attended a swell dinner party while visiting in New York. It was a dinner among the upper ten, at which the ladies sat down to table. "What did the ladies wear?" asked the minister's wife, who was anxious to get a pointer from her husband as to the latest fashions. "Well, my dear," responded the husband, "really, I could not tell from what I saw above the table, and you know I was too much of a gentleman to look under it."

Propagation of Fish.

The annual report of the New York state commissioners of fisheries says that last year the commissioners succeeded in distributing over 80,000,000 of the best varieties of fish in the waters of the state. This exceeds by 50 per cent the production of any previous year. The commissioners have given their greatest energies to the artificial propagation of shad, pike, perch, whitefish, tomcods, smelts, lake trout, brook trout and lobsters. Owing to the liberal stocking done by the commission, tomcods and smelts were never so abundant in the streams as they have been during the last two seasons, and immense catches have been made in Long Island sound and its tributaries.
